

Your Generics & Biosimilars Industry

Jewel Smith is the Vice President of Membership and Operations at the Association for Accessible Medicines. Jewel is responsible for serving as the manager for multiple, complex operational projects in support of the AAM mission and strategic plan. She works closely with the Chief Executive Officer to develop and implement appropriate systems to improve operational efficiency.

Before joining AAM, Jewel was on contract as the Service Delivery Manager with the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency in Washington, D.C. She also has a long corporate history with branded biologics in a variety of capacities, including project management for patient assistance programs and global government affairs.

Jewel received her MBA from Marymount University and her BA in Communication Arts from Hood College.

Jewel Smith

Vice President, Membership and Operations
Association for Accessible Medicines (AAM)